

Crocker Plaza signs law firm

A newly formed law firm comprised of well-established attorneys from the Miami to Palm Beach area has been announced with headquarters at the Crocker Plaza office building.

The firm of Siegel, Zwick and Lipman has leased approximately 8,000 square feet on the eighth floor of the 11-story landmark building at the corner of Butts Road and Town Center Road.

The formation of the new firm and its consolidation in a central regional location provides clients with comprehensive legal services, noted partner Carl E. Siegel, a real estate law specialist.

The comprehensive practice will service clients in real estate, corporate, securities, civil and criminal litigation, tax, trust and estate law.

Siegel explained the group chose the plaza for its location and visibility as the "premier office building in the Boca Raton area." Lipman, a litigator who is a former federal prosecutor for Broward and Palm Beach Counties, noted that the building reflects the area's growing size and sophistication, factors which led the partners to locate the firm there.

Developed by Crocker & Company, Crocker Plaza is nearing completion with occupancy planned for December of this year. Other tenants in the 145,000 square foot building include Coldwell Banker Commercial Real Estate Services which will occupy 7,000 square feet, ComReal of Boca Raton, The Jackson Group and the corporate offices of Crocker & Company.

Full-scale concierge services, state-of-the-art security, tele-communications and energy conservation systems, and a sculptured architectural approach for the black and silver reflective tower make Crocker Plaza unique in the market.

Leasing information is available from ComReal Boca Raton, 21150 Military Trail.
